The Paramount Issue.

The initial sections of the Democratic national platform meet squarely the paramount issue of the campaign so far as the South is concerned, and raise the slogan of the battle. That slogan is "opposition to the force bill." It should be and will be as potent in rallying the solid South d in quieting all differences that may have existed in the party on minor points as wes the cry of "opposition to Radicalat the first political conference of old Whigs and Democrats held in Virginia after the war. The Chicago platform declares that two years ago the revolutionary policy inolved in the force bill was emphatically condemned at the polls. Nearly a hundred years ago Virginia consolidated the patriotism of the nation against just such a subversive measure as the force bill, saved he institutions of the fathers of the republic from wreck and the government from sinking into the quicksands of centralization. Let her see to it that history shall repeat itself. her, as she has always done, lead the southern States in an aggressive warfare against the enemies of freedom and self-government as guaranteed the people by the Constitution. The South nds upon Virginia to-day, as it has ever done in great crises, and that this is a great crisis none can deny who have studied the purposes of the Republican embedged in the head of their ticket. It is as true now as it ever was that "as Virrinm goes so goes the South." Hence the puty of the old State to herself, to her outhern sisters, and to the nation was hever greater.

The National Democratic Platform. The platform adopted by the Chicago convention is one of the strongest as well one of the most aggressive we ever read. Its tone is remarkable. Its words are the words of the victor, not the words of the We gave the platform in full resterday. It has no doubt been carefully examined by many of our readers. We must add, however, a few comments.

Section 1 is general in its application, but none the less a clear, ringing declaration in favor of free, popular government based on home rule. Section 2 is a most forceful arraignment of the Republicans for their attempt to destroy by passing the force bill the free Institutions handed down to us by the athers of the republic.

Section 3 teaches that all nunecessary Caxation is unjust taxation.

Section 4 speaks of "sham reciprocity," as we have done repeatedly in these colnns in claiming for the Democratic party all that was good in Mr. BLAINE's recipro-Section 5 denounces trusts and com-

Section 6 touches the public lands.

Section 7 we give in full as we under-cland it to have been adopted by the conention, as follows:

"Section 7. We denounce the Republican Segislation known as the Sherman act of 1890 as a cowardly make-shift, fraught with possibilities of danger in the future, which should make all of its supporters, as well as its author,

Anxious for its speedy repeal.

"We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and to the coinage of both gold and silver without discrimination against either metal, or charge for mint age, but the deliar unit of coinage of both me tals must be of equal intrinsic and exchange-pble value, or be adjusted inrough intertional agreement or by such safeguards of the parity of the two metals, and the equal power of every dellar at all times in the markets and in payment of debts; and we demand that all paper currency shall be kept at par with and deemable in such coin.

"We insist upon this policy as especially ecessary for the protection of the farmers and boring classes, the first and most defenceless rictims of anstable money and a fluctuating

This is at least as good a silver plank as we had expected. Mr. Pattenson, of Colo-tado, offered an amendment inserting the word "free" and pledging the Democratic party to free coinage, but it was voted Section 8 recommends that the Federal tax on State bank notes be repealed. Mr. CLEVELAND will hardly stand upon that plank of our national platform.

Section 9 demands civil-service reform. This will please Mr. CLEVELAND. Section 10 lauds the Democratic party as the party that stands up for our rights whatever foreign governments may assail Section 11 is a great improvement upon the plank in the Republican platform classing negroes, Irish, Jews, &c., all together. Section 12 declares for the exclusion of undesirable immigration.

Section 13 is a carefully-drawn reference o the Pension Bureau and the pension

Section 14 is sound on the question of the improvement of rivers and harbors. Section 15 favors the Nicaragua canal. It is a scheme that commends itself to all who study its details.

Section 16 favors an appropriation by Congress to the Columbian Exposition. We second the motion.

Section 17 is a passing-good declaration On the subject of education and the rights

Of parents, &c., &c. Section 18 teaches the right doctrine as to the admission of Territories and the offibers of Territories. Section 19 says a word in behalf of the oring men who risk their lives, &c. Section 20 opposes contract labor. Section 21 opposes all sumptuary laws.

Section 22 asks the judgment of the public on all these several counts which are contained in the platform indictment of the great Democratic party.
Surely the work was well done. A grand platform it is.

Not So Fast!

We have several times repeated the story of the lunatic who thought his whistling had caused a great storm at sea. We beg the thousands of "politicians," small or otherwise, who think that it was they who nominated Cheveland for President to recollect that it was the people and not the "politicians" who did that work for the country. The stoutest anti-Cleveland man will have as good a chance for the thest office as the stoutest CLEVELAND B. Mr. CLEVELAND will recognize only one morratic party; but that will include

HILL, B. I. GORMAN, WHITNEY, PATTISON, and all other good Democrats. The Chicago correspondent of the Baltimore Sun notifies all concerned that no claims will notifies all concerned that no claims will be recognized. We quote:

"Not one of the usual contrivances of politi-cians has been employed in the management of Mr. Cleveland's interests. No combination has been proposed, no dickers suggested, no prom-ises held out to coment the wavering, tempt the corrupt or attract the barterers. Mr. Whitney, who has been chief commander of the Cleveland forces, has conducted the campaign on altogether different tactics, and has never deviated for one moment from the strict injunctions which he recoment from the strict injunctions which he re-sived when he left New York. For, he it known, Mr. Cleveland has managed his own campaign. His plan of campaign, simple and straightfor-ward, is not of the character likely to commend loos not matter now."
